Challenges before the Managing Authority of OPRD for the next programming period are related to active participation in discussions on defining and subsequent turnaround the new strategic objectives and priorities of Cohesion Policy at European level, elaboration of the programming policy for development of the Republic of Bulgaria until 2020, effective coordination and cooperation in strategic planning, programming of state regional development after 2014.

For the new programming period through a competitive procedure was chosen the new programme names: Operational programme Regions in growth, and a new message: A Better place to live. Logo symbolizes the relationship of general i.e. Bulgaria and the individual constituent parts, regions, district, cities, operating in sync with each other.

The Managing Authority of OPRD started the programming process early as 2011 by elaborating a detailed social and economic analysis of the operational programme Regions in growth (OPRD) for the 2014-2020 period. Developed was a focused analysis of the specific territorial features, urban development, and national sectorial policies of regional significance that fall outside the urban development policy, as well as analysis of the capacity and project management and implementation opportunities, and analysis of the regional development funding sources available for the next programming period. Formulated were the main conclusions of the SWOT analysis of Bulgarian regions. An update of the analysis based on the comments from interested parties, including The European Commission, and the preliminary environmental assessment of OPRD.

With the adoption in December 2012 by the Council of Ministers National spatial development concept 2013-2015 fulfill the requirement of reformed European Cohesion Policy to strengthen the territorial context of documents for the strategic planning of regional development for the next programming period, the principal result is the specified number of cities (67), specific beneficiaries under the Priority Axis 1 Sustainable and integrated urban development of OPRD 2014-2020 for the application them in a purposeful State policy for urban development.

In July 2012 with an Order issued by the Minister of Regional Development and Public Works was set up a Thematic Working Group to develop of OPRD 2014-2020. As of 30.04.2013 were held eight meetings of the Working Group, the sixth held on 18.12.2012 was the first officially approved project of operational programme.

Within the last two meetings was discussed the updated and expanded version of OPRD. Held the first round of negotiations with representatives of European Commission, were obtained first official comments from EC under the programme, which will be reflected in the second official project of OPRD.

Project of operational programme Regions in growth for the next programming period 2014-2020 provides support for following priority areas:

Priority axis 1: Sustainable and integrated urban development

Priority axis 2: State educational infrastructure

Priority axis 3: Regional healthcare infrastructure

Priority axis 4: Regional social infrastructure

Priority axis 5: Regional tourism

Priority axis 6: Regional road infrastructure

Priority axis 7: Risk prevention

Priority axis 8: Technical assistance

Operation programme will be elaborated in compliance with and in support of the two national documents on Bulgaria's development until 2020 –Bulgaria 2020 National Development Programme and National Reform Programme 2012-2020.

Developing further and upgrading the achievements of the present programming period and in relation to the reinforced role of urban development for obtaining the Cohesion Policy objectives, main priority in the 2014-2020 period will be the sustainable and integrated urban development. The priority will be implemented within the framework of the integrated urban regeneration and development plans - 67 city, a beneficiary under Priority Axis 1, implementing them in a purposeful state policy for urban development. Given the strategic focus of OPRD 2014-2020, aimed at urban development in this priority focuses about 62 percent of the financial resources of the program. Within the priority axis will support the implementation of six investment priorities including list of activities for implementation. Indicative activities are related to interventions in cultural, educational, sports and social infrastructure, improving the urban environment, energy efficiency in commercial and residential buildings, integrated public transport areas with potential for economic development.

The second, third and fourth priorities of the future operational programme will be aimed at the effective implementing of investments in state educational, regional healthcare and social infrastructure, as investments outside urban regeneration and development plans will be funded. Supported will be sectorial policies with distinct regional impact that goes beyond urban dimension. Potential support will be ensure complementarity of municipal measures implemented, integrated development and added value for the intervening territory. OPRD concept is aimed at the implementation of measures to upgrade, modernization and reconstruction of pre-defined projects of the infrastructure, based on a methodology for prioritization and availability of a strategic framework for the development of the sector.

A particular priority axis will support regional tourism and priority investments through preservation, promotion and development of the cultural and natural heritage. The main activities to be undertaken are related to the development of natural, cultural and historical attractions and religious sites of national and international significance and the development of regional marketing. Development of regional tourism and the use of local economic potential is an essential tool for the creation of new forms of employment in the region and achieving sustainable economic growth.

The regional road infrastructure is considered as a priority of national significance. Investments will be directed to first class, second class (non-trans) and tertiary roads. Will be funded road sections of national and regional importance, predetermined based on developed road 2020 Strategy and methodology for prioritization from the Road Infrastructure.

OPRD will support action to tackle climate change and risk prevention, which is extremely important in terms of focused investment, quality of life and appropriate environmental conditions. The priority axis Technical Assistance financial resource is aimed at strengthening and improving the administrative and institutional capacity of the Managing Authority and beneficiaries in the successful management and implementation of the operational program Regions for Growth

The next programming period will develop and reward the use of tools. JESSICA type projects will be applied with regard to urban development and tourism, as it is planned to enlarge the territorial scope, including 67 cities of the country and to increase significantly the funds allocated for repayable investments under OPRD. This will expand greatly potential opportunities for establishing public-private partnerships, financing business initiatives with a social and economic impact, and contributing to OPRD 2014-2020 objectives.

The results of the OPRD is expected to have a positive impact on regional development processes in the country, are supporting counter the effects of the global financial and economic crisis. In this context, the main objective of the program: to ensure sustainable and balanced economic growth, increase competitiveness and attractiveness of cities and create new jobs.
